

LIMIT CLUB SWELLS TO 73; COUNTY SEAL ORGANIZATION

$100 Checks to Fight Tuberculosis Come in Unsolicited—Workers Named in City and Outlying Districts.

The $100 Limit Club has not stopped growing, even though Herbert Carl has been too busy organizing the county for the Red Cross Christmas Seal Sale to devote very much time to it. In fact some of the growth comes without any effort on the part of Mr. Carl. For example, a few days ago he received a letter from Fred D. Lockwood of No. 111 Broadway, New York City, a former Kingston man, who had been reading in The Freeman about the Limit Club and wrote to ask to whom he should send his check for membership. Mr. Lockwood wrote that he knew of the good work being done and wanted to help along. Of course, he was informed.

Additional members of the $100 Limit Club, bringing the membership up to 73, are as follows:

- William A. Van Leuven, Port Jervis.
- Fred D. Lockwood, New York.
- Stratgate Feather Co., Saugerties.
- Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker.
- John D. Schoonmaker.
- Dwight Divine, Ellenville.
- Frank Seaman, Yama Farms.
- Work for the Christmas Seal sale will be in charge of the following persons in the localities named:
- Port Jervis, Dr. G. W. Ross.
- Prosp. Louis B. Goodrich.
- West Park, Della Covert.
- Highland, Mrs. J. W. Blakeslee.
- Marlborough, Cornelia Eckerson.
- Milton, Mrs. John B. Ball.
- Rosendale, Mrs. C. V. Hasbrouck.
- Plattekill, Mrs. Myron Shuttis.
- Mrs. Luther Terwilliger.
- Gardiner, Dr. Voss.
- Chimadale, Mrs. J. Heaton.
- New Paltz, Mrs. Frank J. LeFevre.
- Wallkill, Mrs. Martin J. DeWitt.
- Saugerties, Mrs. Kaufman.
- Ashekan, Mrs. Winchell.
- Phoenicia, Lee Breithaupt.
- Mt. Tremper, Rev. R. F. Ingersoll.
- Albany, Mrs. J. F. Van Keuren.
- Be Indian, Mrs. William Cruickshank.
- Pine Hill, Mildred Hill.
- Haley, Miss Elmendorf.
- Stone Ridge, Miss Hasbrouck.
- Accord, Miss Nellie Schoonmaker.
- Kerkonkson, Dr. G. F. Harker.
- Kysenke, Mrs. V. Cross.
- High Falls, Miss L. Gray.
- Wawarsing, Miss Annie C. Dowling.
- Napanoch, George V. McCarty.
- Ellenville, Edward Smiley.

This week the women of the Federation of Women's Clubs will make the city canvass, the wards being in charge of the following chairmen:

- First ward, Mrs. G. F. Rice, chairman, with Soikanishade Club.
- Second ward, Mrs. Hayes, chairman, with public health committee.
- Third ward, Mrs. John Broadhead, chairman, with the Twentieth Century Club.
- Fourth ward, Mrs. Frank Thompson, chairman, also president of the Federation.
- Fifth ward, Mrs. A. Ray Powley, chairman, with the Monday Club.
- Sixth ward, Mrs. Groves Webster, chairman, with the Monday Club.
- Seventh ward, Mrs. Frank Eastman, chairman, with public health committee.
- Eighth ward, Mrs. William Kingman, chairman, with the Monday Club.
- Ninth ward, Miss Janet Farrell, chairman, with the Monday Club.
- Tenth ward, Mrs. Everett Fowler, chairman, with the Monday Club.
- Eleventh ward, Miss Noone, chairman, with the Monday Club.
- Twelfth ward, Mrs. W. N. Fessenden, chairman, with the Monday Club.
- Thirteenth ward, Mrs. James Barnard, chairman, with workers.

Black Badly Burned.
Robert Black of No. 55 West O'Reilly street, was badly burned about the face Monday evening at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. The ladies of the church are busy decorating and getting ready for the annual fair and chicken pie supper Wednesday. That evening Mr. Black, who was assisting, lit the gas water used to heat water in the church kitchen, when the gas flamed out, burning him severely. He was attended by Dr. W. J. Cranston.

U. S. Ship Hits Mine.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Dec. 2.—Tugs are standing by the United States steamer Keweenaw, which struck a mine off the coast of the Dutch coast, on Monday, and a dispatch to Lloyd's today. The steamer, a vessel of 2,221 tons, sailed from New York for Hamburg on November 12 with a big cargo.

Arthur Parish Breaks Arm.
While cranking an automobile at the garage at Broadway and West, Arthur Parish broke his arm Monday morning. The car was backed up and the crank whirling around struck Arthur Parish in the arm, breaking it. Dr. C. F. Kneide attended him.

The Heater Wouldn't Heat.
This morning the pupils of Public School No. 2 enjoyed a half holiday. The heater in the school would not work properly and it was impossible to get the rooms warm enough to hold school.

COMMISSIONER IN WEBSTER CASE

To Take Testimony of Ill Witness—Kelly Insurance Cases Come Up Dec. 17 and Storms Seduction Action Dec. 15—Recess to Await Witnesses.

The entire afternoon after the grand and trial jurors had been called and excuses heard in supreme court Monday was taken up by motions made by attorneys to Justice Nichols to have actions continued over the term. Amos Van Etten moved that No. 4, a preferred cause, be put over the term as the conductor on the train, whose testimony in the case is important, was ill. This is an action in which M. F. Webster, as administratrix, is plaintiff against the Kingston Consolidated Railroad and New York Central Railroad, for damages sustained by reason of the death of her husband, Grove Webster, Jr., who was killed while a passenger in a trolley car that was run into by a locomotive of a West Shore passenger train at the Broadway crossing on the morning of March 4, 1918. Judge John G. Van Etten, of Van Etten & Cook, attorneys for the plaintiff, opposed the motion and the defendant, after an extended argument, that he would appoint a commissioner to hear the testimony of the witness who is ill if the attorneys could not agree on one. He finally named Daniel B. Deyo to hear the testimony on Saturday at the home of the witness.

A motion followed by William Rooney, attorney for nine fire insurance companies, to have Nos. 61 to 69, inclusive, put over the term. John R. DeVany of Ellenville, attorney for Hubert Kelly, plaintiff in all the cases, opposed. These cases have been on the calendar for over a year and at every term of supreme court since extensive arguments have been had to put the cases over. Defendant's attorney alleges that a man named Overfest, an important witness for the defense, is out west and that his testimony will show that the fire in question and for which $7,000 insurance money is being sued, was of incendiary origin. Justice Nichols listened to the arguments, as have Justices Rudd and Hasbrouck at terms of court, and then made an order that the testimony of Overfest, who is to take it by December 15, and that the case would be taken up on December 17 or as soon thereafter as it can be reached, whether the report with the testimony is here or not.

Judge William E. Woodard of Albany, attorney for defendant, moved the trial of No. 141, Charles R. Abbott against Earl D. Storms, over the term. This is an action to recover damages for seduction of plaintiff's daughter, aged 16 years. Plaintiff resides in Saugerties. Judge Woodard asked the case be put over until a decision on an appeal made by him before the appellate division of the supreme court from an order of Judge Rudd denying a motion to have set aside an agreement of settlement of the case by which Storms, it is alleged, agreed to pay a large sum of money. He claimed the decision by the appellate division had an important bearing on the present case. William D. Brinrier, attorney for John D. Ringwood, who was arrested at Poughkeepsie in August, and is contended received $1,000 as counsel fees from the settlement, opposed the putting the case over the term. Justice Nichols denied the motion when he would be ready to go on with the case. The latter said no before two weeks and the court put the case down for trial on December 15.

Court took a recess until this morning, 10 o'clock.
Three cases on the day calendar were disposed of at a ten minute session of supreme court this morning. In the action brought by Elmer Smith against Abraham Raskin, to recover on a check, the plaintiff was sworn, testified to the amount due $23.35 including interest was directed. V. B. Van Wagoner appeared for the plaintiff. There was no appearance on the part of the defendant.

A negligence action brought by Bella Margolis against Louis Fisher on motion of Frank W. Brooks was discontinued with costs. The action was brought by Lena Mendelson against M. Weprinsky and another, also a negligence action, was disposed of in the same way.

An inquiry in the action brought by Peter L. Bonavent against Pearl Frankie will be taken this afternoon at 2 o'clock by Mayor Canfield, attorney for the plaintiff.

Court then went into recess until 11:30 o'clock in order to await the arrival of witnesses from New York in the action brought by J. Norman and another against Martha Hentschel, an action on contract. Judge Van Etten appears for the plaintiff and William D. Brinrier for the defendant.

Quake in Anatolia.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Dec. 2.—Many persons were killed and injured and seven villages were destroyed by an earthquake in the extreme west part of Anatolia, in Asia Minor, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Constantinople today.

The shock occurred in the districts of Sinna and Balneard. Widespread damage was reported outside of the towns. The one believed in previous and other American industries, the other American.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE STRESSES LABOR UNREST AS GREATEST ISSUE TODAY

Peace Treaty Not Mentioned—Labor Must Have Right to Bargain and Strike But Public Interest Is Paramount—Railroad Talk Postponed—Advocates Budget System, Revision of Income and Profit Taxes, Soldier Relief, Tariff Legislation and Increased Production.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Completely ignoring the peace treaty and featuring the nation-wide unrest as the big issue now before the country, President Wilson's anxiously awaited message to the sixty-sixth congress was read before both houses at noon today.

President Wilson's message to the sixty-sixth congress was as follows: "To the Senate and House of Representatives: I sincerely regret that I cannot be present at the opening of this session of the congress. I am thus prevented from presenting in as direct a way as I could wish the many questions that are pressing for solution at this time. Happily, I have had the advantage of the advice of the heads of the several executive departments who have kept in close touch with affairs in their detail and whose thoughtful recommendations I earnestly second.

Asks Budget; Railroad Talk Later.
"In the matter of the railroads and the readjustment of their affairs growing out of federal control, I shall take the liberty at a later date of addressing you.

"I hope that congress will bring to a conclusion at this session, legislation looking to the establishment of a budget system. That there should be one single authority responsible for the making of all appropriations and that appropriations should be made not independently of each other, but with reference to one single comprehensive plan of expenditure properly related to the nation's income, there can be no doubt. I believe the burden of preparing the budget must, in the nature of the case, if the work is to be properly done and responsibility concentrated instead of divided, rest upon the executive. The budget so prepared should be submitted to and approved or amended by a single committee of each house of congress and no single appropriation should be made by the congress, except such as may have been included in the budget prepared by the executive or added by the particular committee of congress charged with the budget legislation.

For Efficient Economy.
"Another and not less important aspect of the problem is the ascertainment of the economy and efficiency with which the moneys appropriated are expended. Under existing law the only audit is for the purpose of ascertaining whether expenditures have been lawfully made within the legislation. The auditors may have been included in the budget prepared by the executive or added by the particular committee of congress charged with the budget legislation.

Must Revise War Taxes.
"I trust that the congress will give its immediate consideration to the problem of future taxation. Simplification of the income and profits taxes has become an immediate necessity. These taxes performed during the war an indispensable service. They must, however, be simplified, not only to save the taxpayer inconvenience and expense, but in order that his liability may be made certain and definite.

"With reference to the details of the revenue law, the secretary of the treasury and the commissioner of the internal revenue will lay before you for your consideration certain amendments necessary or desirable in connection with the administration of the law—recommendations which have my approval and support. It is of the utmost importance that in dealing with this matter the present law should not be disturbed so far as regards taxes for the calendar year 1920, payable in the calendar year 1921. The congress might well consider whether the higher rates of income and profits taxes can in peace times be effectively productive of revenue, and whether they may not, on the contrary, be destructive of business activity and productive of waste and inefficiency. There is a point at which in peace times high rates of income and profits taxes discourage energy, remove the incentive to new enterprise, encourage extravagant expenditures and produce industrial stagnation and other attendant evils.

Protection and Free Trade Must Compromise.
"The problem is not an easy one. A fundamental change has taken place with reference to the position of America in the world's affairs. The prejudice and passions engendered by decades of controversy between two schools of political and economic thought—the one believers in protection and the other American.

believers in tariff for revenue only—must be subordinated to the single consideration of the public interest in the light of utterly changed conditions. Before the war America was heavily the debtor of the rest of the world and the interest payments she had to make to foreign countries on American securities held abroad, the expenditures of American travelers abroad and the ocean freight charges she had to pay to others, about balanced the value of her pre-war favorable balance of trade. Through the efforts of American exporters have been greatly stimulated and increased prices have increased their value. On the other hand, she has purchased a large proportion of the American securities previously held abroad, so that our governments and has built her trade has thus been greatly increased by means of meeting it heretofore existing. Europe can have only three ways of meeting its favorable balance in trade in peace times: By imports into this country of gold or of goods, or by establishing new credits. Europe is in no position at the present time to ship gold to us nor could it into this country without concern. The time has nearly passed for international governmental loans and it will take time to develop in this country a market for foreign securities. Anything, therefore, which would tend to prevent foreign countries from settling for our exports by shipments of goods into this country could only have the effect of preventing them from paying for our exports and therefore of preventing the productivity of the country greatly stimulated by the war must find an outlet by measures taken to prevent imports which will inevitably curtail exports; force curtailment of production, load the banking machinery of the country with credits to carry unsold products and produce industrial stagnation and unemployment. If we want to sell, we must be prepared to buy. Whatever, therefore, may have been our views during the period of growing American business concerning tariff legislation, we must now adjust our own economic life to a changed condition growing out of the fact that American business is full grown and America is the greatest capitalist in the world.

Isolation Policy Out of Date.
"No policy of isolation will satisfy the growing needs and opportunities of America. The provincial standpoint and policies of the past, which have held American business as if in a straight jacket, must yield and give way to the needs and exigencies of the new day in which we live, a day of full hope and promise for American business. If we will but take advantage of the opportunities that are before us for the asking, the recent war has ended our isolation and thrown upon us a great duty and responsibility. The United States must share the expanding world market. The United States desires for itself only the equal opportunity with the other nations of the world, and that through the process of friendly competition and future competition of the nations concerned may be successfully and equitably adjusted.

"There are other matters of importance upon which I urged action at the last session of congress which I am still pressing for solution. I am sure it is not necessary for me again to remind you that there is a great and very practical question resulting from the war which we should meet in the most liberal and helpful spirit. It is a matter of recognition and relief to our soldiers. I can do no better than to quote from my last message, urging this very action.

Relief For Service Men.
"We must see to it that our returning soldiers are assisted in every practical way to find the places for which they are fitted in the daily work of the country. This can be done by developing and maintaining upon an adequate scale the admirable organization created by the department of labor for placing men seeking work; and it can also be done in at least one very great field, by creating new opportunities for individual enterprise. The secretary of the interior has pointed out the way by which returning soldiers may be helped to find and take up land in the hitherto undeveloped regions of the country which the federal government has already prepared or can readily prepare for cultivation and also on many other or neglected areas which lie within the limits of the older states; and I urge more take liberty of recommending very promptly that his plans shall receive the immediate and substantial support of congress.

"In the matter of tariff legislation, I beg to call your attention to the statements contained in my last message urging legislation with reference to the establishment of chemical and dye stuffs industry in America.

The Dye stuff Problem.
"Among the industries to which special consideration should be given is that of the manufacture of dyes, stuffs and related chemicals. Our complete dependence upon German supplies before the war made the international economic disturbance a close relation between the manufacture of explosives and poisonous gases, on the other, moreover, has given the industry an exceptional significance and value. Although the United States will gladly and unhesitatingly join in the program of international disarmament, it will, nevertheless, be a policy of obvious prudence to make certain of the successful maintenance of many strong and well equipped chemical plants. The German chemical industry, with which we will be brought into competition, was and may well be again, a thoroughly knit monopoly capable of exercising a competition of peculiarly insidious and dangerous kind.

Encouragement For Farmers.
"During the war, the farmer performed a vital and willing service to the nation. By materially increasing the production of his land, he supplied America and its allies with the increased amounts of food necessary to keep its immense army in the field. He indispensably helped to win the war. But there is now scarcely less need of increasing the food supplies and the necessities of life. I ask the congress to consider the means of encouraging effort along these lines. The importance of doing everything possible to promote production along economical lines, to improve marketing and to make rural life more attractive and healthful, is obvious. I would urge approval of the plans already proposed to the congress by the secretary of agriculture, to secure the essential facts required for the proper study of this question. Through the proposed enlarged programs for farm management studies and crop estimates, I would urge also, the continuance of federal participation in the building of good roads, under the terms of existing law and under the direction of the present agencies; the need of further action on the part of the states and the federal government to preserve and develop our forest reserves, especially through the practice of better forestry methods on private holdings and the extension of the publicly owned forests; better support for country schools and the more definite direction of their courses of study along lines related to rural problems; and federal provision for sanitation in rural districts and the building up of needed hospital and medical facilities in these localities. Perhaps the way might be cleared for many of these desirable reforms by a fresh, comprehensive survey made of rural conditions by a conference composed of representatives of the farmers and of the agricultural agencies responsible for leadership.

No Deep Seated Unrest.
"I would call your attention to the widespread condition of political restlessness in our body politic. The causes of this unrest, while various and complicated, are superficial rather than deep seated. Broadly, they arise from or are connected with the failure on the part of our government to arrive swiftly at a just and permanent peace, permitting a return to normal conditions; from the transition of radical theories from seething European centers to this country, resulting in the increase in the cost of living and lastly from the machinations of passionate and malevolent agitators. With the return to normal conditions, this unrest will rapidly disappear. In the meantime, it does much evil. It seems to me in dealing with this situation, congress should not be impatient or drastic, but should seek rather to remove the cause. It should endeavor to bring our country back speedily to a peace basis with ameliorated living conditions under the minimum of restrictions with personal liberty that is consistent with our reconstruction problems. And it should arm the federal government with power to deal in its criminal courts with those persons who by violent methods would abrogate our time-tested institutions. With the free expression of opinion and with the advocacy of orderly political changes, however fundamental, there must be no interference with the peaceful and malcontented leading to crime and insurrection under guise of political evolution. There should be no leniency. Legislation to this end has been recommended by the attorney general and should be enacted. In this direct connection, I would call your attention to my recommendations on August 8, pointing out legislative measures which would be effective in controlling and bringing down the present cost of living, which contribute so largely to this unrest. The government's campaign to be conducted, it is necessary that we

other steps suggested should be acted on at once.

Would Continue Food Control.
"I renew and strongly urge the necessity of the extension of the present food control act, as to the period of time in which it shall remain in operation. The attorney general has submitted a bill providing for an extension of this act for a period of six months. As it now stands it is limited in operation to the period of the war and becomes inoperative upon the formal proclamation of peace. It is imperative that it should be extended at once. The department of justice has built up extensive machinery for the purpose of enforcing its provisions; all of which must be abandoned upon the conclusion of peace unless the provisions of this act are extended.

"During this period the congress will have an opportunity to make similar, permanent provisions and regulations with regard to all goods destined for interstate commerce and to exclude them from interstate shipment, if the requirements of the law are not complied with. Some such regulation is imperatively necessary. The abuses that have grown up in the manipulation of prices by the withholding of foodstuffs and other necessities of life cannot otherwise be effectively prevented. There can be no doubt of either the necessity or the legitimacy of such measures.

Publicity For Profiteers.
"As I pointed out in my message, publicity can accomplish a great deal in this campaign. The aims of the government must be clearly brought to the attention of the consuming public, civic organizations and state officials, who are in a position to lend their assistance to our efforts. You have made available funds with which to carry on this campaign, but there is no provision in the law authorizing the expenditure for the purpose of making the people fully informed as to the purposes of the government. I would strongly urge upon the attorney general's recommendations in this respect being adopted.

Regulating Cold Storage.
"I also renew my recommendation that congress pass a law regulating cold storage, for example, by the laws of the state of New Jersey, which limit the time during which goods may be kept in storage, prescribe the method of disposing of them if kept beyond the permitted period, and require that the goods released from storage shall, in all cases bear the date of their receipt. It would materially add to the service of the law, for the purpose we now have in view, if it were also prescribed that all goods released from storage for interstate shipment should have plainly marked upon each package the selling or market price at which they went into storage. By this means the purchaser would always be able to learn what profit stood between him and the producer or the wholesale dealer.

Price Mark on Interstate Goods.
"I would also renew my recommendation that all goods destined for interstate commerce should in every case, where their form or package makes it possible, be plainly marked with the price at which they left the hands of the producer. "We should formulate a law requiring a federal license of all corporations engaged in interstate commerce and embodying in the license, or container in which it is to be issued, specific regulations designed to secure competitive selling and prevent unconscionable profits in the method of marketing. Such a law would afford a welcome opportunity to effect other much needed reforms in the business of interstate shipment and in the methods of corporations which are engaged in it; but for the moment I confine my recommendations to the object immediately in hand, which is to lower the cost of living.

"No one who has observed the march of events in the last year can fail to note the absolute need of a definite program to bring about an improvement in the conditions of labor. There can be no settled changes leading to increased production or a reduction in the cost of living if labor and capital are to be antagonists. Instead of partners, sound thinking and an honest desire to serve the interests of the whole nation must be applied to the solution of this great and pressing problem. The failure of other nations to consider this matter in a vigorous way has produced bitterness and jealousies and antagonisms, the food of radicalism. The only way to keep turn from agitating against circumstances is to remove the grievances. An unwillingness even to discuss these matters produces only dissatisfaction and stress comfort to the extreme elements in our country which endeavor to stir up disturbances in order to promote grounds for reprobation. The seed of revolution is sown. The remedy for these things must not be the acquiescence in the status quo. (Continued on Page 11.)

The "Autometric" Carburetor

YALE

Made by The Yale & Towne Mfg. Co
STAMFORD CONNECTICUT

Add Years to the Life of Your Motor

An automobile is propelled by a series of explosions.

Explosions cause engine vibration, and subject it to strains, which may in time lessen the life of your motor unless properly regulated.

Most motors vibrate considerably at intermediate and high speeds, due to unevenness of power in the cylinders caused by poor carburetion. This is particularly noticeable at speeds approximating 30 miles per hour.

The Autometric Carburetor automatically feeds the engine the correct mixture for all speeds for any car. It admits the correct proportions of fuel and air for whatever speed the engine is travelling. A smooth even flow of power at all times.

Engine vibration is thereby reduced to a minimum, avoiding undue wear and tear on your engine and adding years to its life.

And in addition, you get up to 1/4 more mileage from your gasoline, greater flexibility of control in driving, at least 20% less gear shifting and greater comfort in driving.

Let us arrange to have your own garage man equip your car with an Autometric Carburetor on approval.

POULTRYMEN TO BE HERE FRIDAY

There will be a sectional meeting of the New York State Federation of Poultry Associations held in co-operation with the Ulster County Farm Bureau at Kingston, Friday afternoon, December 5th, at 2 o'clock in the state armory. This will be followed by a meeting in the evening at the same place. Subject: "The Poultry Outlook for 1920." Speaker, James E. Rice of Cornell University.

Some of the subjects for consideration at the meeting of the Federation are:

"Standardization of Egg Grades."
"A State-Wide Campaign Against Chicken Stealing."

"The Competition of Chinese Eggs and Poultry and Their Effect Upon the Poultry Industry of the United States."

"Is Co-operative Buying and Selling Among Poultrymen Feasible in New York State?"

"A State Program for the Improvement of New York State Poultry and Poultry Products."

"Transportation Losses of Eggs and Poultry and What Can be Done to Remedy the Situation."

It is expected that a representative of the department of Farms and Markets, Albany, N. Y., will be present to discuss the question of co-operation.

The questions for consideration are of vital importance to the poultrymen of the state. The sectional meeting will provide an excellent opportunity for full discussion of these problems and action which should be taken in regard to them.

AT THE THEATRES.

Alice Brady in "Redhead"—Charles Ray at Auditorium.

Alice Brady, in the past, has been starred in many a picture that has made a hit with the public, but it is doubtful if any of them can compare with "Redhead," her latest Select picture, which will be presented at Keener's tonight.

The story is deeply interesting and impressive and gives you a sane view of the chorus girl who is looked down upon by the world in general just because she happens to be a member of the chorus. A Kinggram News Weekly, Picture Journeys in Vacation Land are other features tonight. H. B. Warner in "The Pagan God" will be the attraction tomorrow.

Charles Ray, the Ince-Paramount star, will be seen in "Greased Lightning" at the Auditorium tonight. The story of this picture, by Julian Josephson, offers him the opportunity of appearing in another country boy part. Followers of Mr. Ray will realize his ability for expert characterization in this line, and his Andy Fletcher is no exception to the general rule.

Andy Fletcher is the village blacksmith—but no ordinary one. Besides being able to fit a shoe on a horse he can fit one on an automobile, and what he doesn't know about mechanics and gasoline and sparks isn't worth knowing. Andy romances a buzz wagon, enters a race, jumps out of it to pursue a bank robber, captures him, captures the heart of a girl and the consent of her father, before the five reels of "Greased Lightning" have run their course.

There is nothing melodramatic about the plot of "Greased Lightning." It is, however, filled with small town atmosphere that is a veritable delight both from the comedy viewpoint and the angle of human interest. Mr. Ray is ably supported. Cartoon Comics, Current News, Events are also added attractions tonight. Virginia Hammond in "Miss Crusoe" will be at this popular theatre tomorrow.

WHITFIELD.

Whitfield, Dec. 1.—Don't forget the party and entertainment at the school house Friday evening, December 5. Cake and coffee will be served after the play. If stormy next fair evening.

DeWitt Hornbeck of Schenectady spent his Thanksgiving vacation with his parents in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stokes and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Grant Addis at Kerhonkson.

Mrs. Arthur G. Davis and daughter, Majorie Virginia, spent Friday and Saturday with Mrs. Davis's mother at Leibhardt.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rosenkrantz spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Simon Hornbeck.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Davis and daughter, and Mrs. Della Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gasley and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Smith at Lyonsville.

One of the largest house parties of the season was held at the home of Miss Beatrice Baker last Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rosenkrantz spent Thanksgiving Day with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Davis.

Miss Della Van Vleet and gentleman friend spent Sunday out of town.

PLATTEKILL.

Plattekill, Dec. 1.—Thanksgiving was fittingly observed in this village; many families entertained guests, while others spent the day away from home.

Invitations have been issued for a game to be given in the Grange Hall Tuesday evening, December 2. A few friends of Edward Harris gathered at his home Wednesday evening to help him celebrate his birthday.

M. and Mrs. Jackson Martin had supper at their home over the holiday. Mrs. Sprague and her mother of Poughkeepsie are at the parsonage, expecting to spend the winter there. Frank Tooley and his thrashing outfit is in town.

H. E. Tenney spent the latter part of the week at New Jersey.

A meeting of the Dairyman's League was held in the Grange Hall Saturday evening.

Practising for the Christmas entertainment for M. E. Church has commenced.

"I Am Climbing Mountains" A Harmonious Tenor Duet

This sentimental song of childhood's and manhood's dreams and ambitions is a beautiful bit of harmony. Both this song and the coupling, "Golden Gate," are worthy successors to "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles," by the same authors. Charles Harrison and Lewis James—a new combination—sing them wonderfully.

Dr. Carter's K. & B. Tea
Makes Fine Laxative Syrup

Make It at Home and Save About $1.50—Children Love to Take It.

Get from any drug store a package of Dr. Carter's K. & B. Tea. Put contents in a bowl. Add a level tea-cupful of sugar. Mix and pour over this 3 teacupfuls of boiling water.
Cover and allow to stand for at least 2 hours. Strain and flavor either with Essence of Peppermint or Winter-green, according to taste.

Dose for adults, 1 tablespoonful
each night or night and morning until a regular movement of the bowels is effected. For children, 1 teaspoonful more or less according to age.
For a real tonic and blood purifier,
1 teaspooonful every night or every other night for at least three weeks.
Cut this recipe out and paste it on the bottle.

Of Course I'll Take
Celery King

I take it every season and so do mother and children.
It's old fashioned and made of roots and herbs, but it's right there, just the same, and costs next to nothing.

We all think it's the best tonic laxative we ever heard about, and so do other people we have recommended
it to.

Take it every other night for three weeks if you want to feel better, sleep better, work better and be better.
It purifies the blood, clears the skin and chases away that worn out feeling. Brew a cup tonight just like you make tea. You'll like it.

41 INMATES AT CITY HOME

And the Charity Board Has a Balance of $373.46 on Hand—The Board Transacts Routine Matters
Only at Regular Meeting.

Routine matters only were disposed of Monday evening at the regular monthly meeting of the Charity Commissioners held at the city hall.
There are 41 inmates at the City Home at the present time according to Superintendent Edmonston's report, and a balance on hand in the treasury of $373.46.

Superintendent Edmonston, secretary of the board, submitted the following reports:

ESOPUS.

Esopus, Dec. 1.—A business meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Benjamin on Wednesday afternoon of this week at 2:15. All members are cordially invited to attend, also to report in reference to the fund that is being collected by the society.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Schultz spent the Thanksgiving holiday in Schenectady at the home of Tracy Freer, a son of Mrs. Schultz.

Harry Van Demark of High Falls,

N. Y., visited his brother, Roy Van

Demark, one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mott have gone to Poughkeepsie for the winter.

Harrison and Howard Wright were guests of the father on Thanksgiving Day. Upon their return to their home in New York city they were accompanied by the wife and daughter of the first named and on December 6 Mrs. Wright and daughter will sail for Sweden to spend a year with her parents and other relatives.

The "chicken farm," just outside

this village, has once more changed hands. The former owner, Mr.

Golokhwasoff, with his family, and

Mr. and Mrs. Phillipoff who resided with them, have gone to New York city for a time. Perhaps later they will return to their native country,

Russia. Both these men were sent from Russia during the first part of the war to purchase military supplies and were obliged to remain here for the past two years. They were owners of many acres of land and manufacturing plants in Russia and their friends here hope that they may have a large portion of their possessions restored to them.

Rev. George W. Budd motored to Alton on Thanksgiving Day to fulfill an engagement to preach in the Methodist Church in that village in the evening. Special meetings are being held there and it was at the request of the pastor, Rev. D. N. F. Blakeney

that he officiated at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Ashton returned to their home in Brooklyn on Sunday afternoon.

George Hummel and family have moved from the apartments in the

KINGSTON, N. Y., DEC. 2, 1919.

It is announced that the W. C. T. U. is "preparing" to open war on tobacco. Putting a "poem" into the school books a year or two ago describing a smoking father as "not fit to kiss" looked like something more than preparation.

After D'Annunzio it is necessary to revise the popular estimate of poets. The adherents of this fire-eating writer of verse are now said to be conspiring with seditious elements in Italy against a King who out of regard for treaty obligations turned down the demand for the annexation of Fiume.

Jessie Stephens, a London servant girl, has announced her intention to "run" for Parliament. Doubtless she thinks she ought to be able to put over a lively campaign if Lady Astor, a mere American, could do it, particularly as she knows a lot about cooking, which Lady Astor most likely does not.

A Philadelphia editor, bewailing "the slaughter of children by automobiles" in that city, complains that only five automobile licenses have been revoked in Pennsylvania during 1919 although "the law is violated every day by many drivers." Lack of law enforcement is the cause of most of our troubles in the country as a whole.

COLLEGE GIRLS.

Pessimists who fear that the future of the American home is imperiled by the college girl's ambitions for a career should find comfort in the tabulated results of the Delinquent magazine's questionnaire sent to the seniors in the women's colleges. Of the 600 college girls who answered the frank questions (without signing their names) only 51 said they would sacrifice marriage for a career if compelled to make a choice, and of those looking forward to marriage only 10 replied that they did not want to have children. Though most of them thought that the number of children should depend upon the extent of the available funds for their proper rearing, the number of children desired ranged from two to five. And the amount of money believed to be necessary for marriage was not as great as might have been expected. In these times, 168 thinking a man could marry on a salary from $1,000 to $2,000, 260 figuring on $2,000 to $3,000, only 75 seeing actual need of $3,000 to $4,000, and only 27 requiring more.

Scarcely less interesting is the announcement of the careers desired. Business got 120 votes, against 71 for writing, 72 for the stage, 62 for editing and 58 for medicine. Teaching had only 25 and social service only 22. This does not mean that 72 out of 600 college girls have definitely decided to go on the stage, for example, the question not being "What do you intend to do?" but "What occupation would you follow if you could do exactly what you wanted?" On the whole the returns from this questionnaire seem to show that the impulses and inclinations of college girls are not markedly different from those of the average girl at home.

POLITICS IN 1920.

In political party matters definite predictions are usually unsafe enough to put a bridle on the cautious man's tongue. It would seem to be safe enough, however, to prophesy that there will at least be vigorous efforts to put a third and perhaps a fourth party into the field next year. Certainly there are large numbers of men who want and talk in favor of a party more to their liking than the Democratic or the Republican.

Some peregrinating investigators say there are at least five groups of voters outside of the regular Republican and Democratic ranks. There is the labor group, of course, with leaders desiring a labor party which will champion government ownership of about everything under the sun. Then there is the money group of the most distinguished elements, which includes the pro-Germans and all the "units" of every name and order, men who are champions of a variety of "isms," Bolshevism, Socialism and what not, that have been dumped into this country from everywhere and nowhere.

As always, there is the "big business" group that is looking, not for a new party, but for a "safe" candidate, Republican or Democratic, whose promises can be relied on, who will faithfully represent the interests of this very powerful group after as well as before the election. The ideal of these conservative leaders of capital, sometimes called the "stand-patters," is a "solid, safe and reliable" man in the White House, and it does not really matter whether he is called Republican, Democratic or by some other name. A fourth group would also like a "business man" for President, but do not wish him to wear the collar of "big business." In this group are progressive representatives of American industry who like to think of a successful Presidential candidate who could reorganize the government and manage it as an efficient business concern is managed.

The fifth group, which is the least organized and is the least definite in the matter of program, includes a large part of the general public and practically all of those known as independent voters. These men are for neither labor nor capital, for neither the Democratic nor the Republican party as such, for neither "big business" at the one extreme nor for the destructive new "isms" at the other extreme. They stand for Americanism, good business principles, and such progress at home or in the international field as is able to convince them to its genuineness. They are likely to vote the Democratic or Republican ticket according to the special appeal which the character and professions of the individual candidates offer as a winning bid for their support.

And so, although there are at least five groups of irregulars, three of them—the independent "big business" and industry in general—may be found supporting a Republican or Democratic candidate. There is little prospect, therefore of more than two extra party attempts, the one representing labor and the other the extreme radicals.

SAMSONVILLE.

Samsonville, Dec. 1.—Church service on Sunday was well attended and the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper enjoyed by many.

Thanksgiving vacation in the school last week and also in Winchell District.

Marshall Rosa of West Shokan took dinner at Freeman Every's on Friday.

George Davis and Virgil Rainier, carpenters, have been employed by Jesse Shurter, repairing the grist mill.

Floyd Reesmer and Clarion Davis visited at Mrs. W. G. Moore's on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. W. G. Moore spent a few hours on Thursday caring for Mrs. Beyer during the funeral of Mrs. Sheldon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Van Kleeck moved to Kingston on Saturday.

A few neighbors of F. Every gathered at his home on Friday evening and enjoyed a talk by Elder Clark who started Saturday for Shokan to hold a meeting at the Baptist Church.

BLOOMINGTON.

Bloomington, Dec. 1.—Benjamin Hyde, who has been under the care of Dr. Hyatt for some time, is improving very slowly at this writing.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. David Mowell of Crook Neck. All ladies are invited to come.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold a roast pork supper on Thursday evening, December 4, in the basement of the church. Everybody is invited to come.

The Lord's Supper will be administered in the church on Sunday morning, Sunday school at 10 a. m., and church services at 11 a. m.

Joe Mowell, one of the best of Crook Neck, who has been spending a couple of weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Mowell, at his home.

Mr. Dunbach, who has a meeting in New York City, spent Thanksgiving day with his family here.

DEATH OF JEMAL BARR AT SHOKAN.

Dec. 2, 1919.—Charles Barr, injured by being burned in trench on Staples street.

Dec. 2, 1919.—William Barr, died, aged 52 years.

The will of William Barr, 11 of West Halcott, leaving $40,000 to his children, filed in Ulster county court.

FIRST KINGSTON CHRISTMAS SING

There seems to be some question as to whether or not Kingston is to have any sort of Community Christmas celebration. It is. And the celebration is to be in the nature of a real, old-fashioned Christmas Community sing, the finest thing of the kind ever heard in Kingston. Mr. Dodge has been working away on the plans for this sing and is ready to make the first announcement of his plans this evening. A special quartet will sing five old traditional Christmas Carols; a Latin Carol; two Breton Carols, and three Gascon Carols, which will be sure to delight everyone. Then the Community Chorus will have the pleasure of singing eight well known and generally loved Christmas songs or carols, some of which have already been practiced, and the remainder of which will be rehearsed at the sing between this and Christmas. There will be solo, a Breton Christmas Song, and some special singing by the school children. Sounds good, doesn't it? No need to question Kingston having a Community Christmas this year!

Beginning next Tuesday night, December 9th, Mr. Dodge, leader of the Community Sing, wants the school children to be sure and come to the sing at the high school to learn the songs they are to sing for the Christmas festival of song. So, boys and girls, be ready to do your bit, and also to have a good time singing, next week Tuesday night. There will be no Community Sing tonight.

GREW OLD TOGETHER.

Mrs. Marsh Was Aboard on Mary Powell's First Trip.

Slighsburg, Dec. 2, 1919. Having read with interest the historic incidents concerning the steamboat, Mary Powell, would like to add my tribute of respect to her memory by relating an incident or two of my recollection.

In May 1862, I was invited by my aunt, who was the wife of Capt. Absalom L. Anderson to take a trip with her on the Thomas Powell, as she was going to New York city to assist in selecting the furniture and fittings for the new boat, the Mary Powell. I enjoyed the shopping trip with my aunt and spent the time very pleasantly. The work of furnishing and decorating being completed, we came up the river on the Mary, on her first trip up the Hudson. This being my first visit to the city, I can still at the age of seventy-eight, look back to the trip as one of the bright spots in my memory.

In later years I remember another notable trip on the Mary Powell, when I spent a day at West Point on the occasion of the Prince of Wales afterward King Edward VII. grandfather of the present prince, making a tour of America. I also saw at that time General Winfield Scott and other notables.

I have always enjoyed the trips on the Mary Powell, and in later years have thought that the season was not complete without at least one sail on "The Queen of the Hudson" But "Mary" and I have grown old together.

The beautiful sounding bell I trust, will still resound in the memory of her friends, so may the influence of my life still remain in the hearts of those with whom I have mingled, when my duties are done. I am anxiously waiting to know what disposition is to be made of her bell.

MRS. J. H. MARSH.

TWO HURT WHEN CAR TURNS OVER

Lemuel DuBois of Ellenville is in a Serious Condition as Result of Accident Sunday Afternoon.

Lemuel DuBois, a hardware merchant of Ellenville, and Miss Kirkland, an employee in the telephone office in Ellenville, were seriously injured Sunday afternoon when the automobile in which they were riding turned over on the road to Kyserville. Mr. DuBois and Miss Kirkland were pinned under the car, where they remained for some time before help arrived. Doctors were summoned and Mr. DuBois was taken to Stone Ridge. The extent of his injuries is not known, but he is reported to be in a serious condition. Miss Kirkland was slightly injured about the face and head. She was taken to her home in Ellenville and is resting quite comfortably.

The couple left Ellenville Sunday for a ride in Mr. DuBois's roadster. They turned from the state road on to that going to Kyserville and by turning aside to clear a stretch of bad road the car turned over. The road at this point is not traveled in any great extent, and it was therefore some time after the accident before aid arrived. The car was considerably damaged.

A Christmas entertainment will be held in the Ashokan M. E. Church on Tuesday night, December 23. Mrs. Vera Finney, of Kingston and Fred DuBois of this place were married at the M. E. parsonage, by Rev. George O. W. on Wednesday night, November 26. Congratulations are extended.

We wish to thank the Rev. Sheraton of Woodstock for helping us in our evangelistic meetings the past week. Mrs. Loma Thiel who has been sick, is improving. The Thanksgiving service held at the M. E. Church was well attended.

Careful Providers Are Using Troco

Not alone because it saves them 25 to 40 cents on every pound. That would be negligible if Troco were not a real luxury—delicious, nutritious and satisfying.

Troco is made from the two great food essentials of the Tropic and Temperate Zones. The dainty nut fat extracted from the white meat of fresh coconuts, is churned with pasteurized milk. Troco flavor is inimitable.

Troco is churned and shipped every day, on ice, to insure its freshness and sweetness. If your dealer will order frequently and keep his stock in the ice box, your Troco will come to your table in all its original freshness and sweetness, just as it comes from the churn. If you have trouble in getting Troco in perfect condition, write direct to the Troco Nut Butter Company, Chicago.

We are obliged to label Troco "oleomargarine" because of old laws, enacted before this nut-made food was invented. Law also denies us the right to color in churning. Do you consider such discrimination fair? Write your congressman about it.

Send for Troco Recipe Book

The Troco Recipe Book, a practical little volume prepared by Ida C. Bailey Allen, gladly sent free on request. Address Troco Nut Butter Co., 30 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, and enclose your dealer's name.

WOULD YOU BUY A WATCH FROM A BLACKSMITH? IF NOT—WHY NOT?
THAT'S THE QUESTION TOM SETTLED FOR BILL.

Bill held on a minute, Tom, let's go in the Emporium. The safe, secure, an Emporium, and I might as well get it here. They say the Emporium keeps a very fine lot of watches.

Tom held on a minute yourself, Bill. Would you buy a watch from a blacksmith and get your automobile tools from a carpenter?

All that you are driving at? An iron's an iron whatever you buy at, and the Emporium's reliable, isn't it?

Tom, good as gold—for some things. I suppose that checked kingdom is a good as gold as any other goods would be, but I don't want to go to the Emporium and get my automobile tools from a carpenter. I don't want to go to the Emporium and get my automobile tools from a carpenter. I don't want to go to the Emporium and get my automobile tools from a carpenter.

If you want to play a winner, sure thing—
put your money on Chesterfield.

In less than three years, more than three million smokers have become Chesterfield fans.

And no wonder! Never were finer tobaccos used in any cigarette. The silkiest leaves of aromatic Turkish and the choicest of ripe, sweet Domestic stock are put together by an exclusive blending method that brings out a new deliciousness of flavor.

"Satisfy"? Right down to your toes! Chesterfields have put added enjoyment into every puff—enjoyment that you don't get and can't get in any other cigarette because the Chesterfield blend can't be copied.

TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL GIFTS

During the month of November, which includes Thanksgiving, the Tuberculosis Hospital has been generously remembered by its many friends. Here is a list of the gifts during that month:

Large rice pudding, Mrs. Thomas. Bologna every week, Jacob Lay. Ten cans of fruit, five cans pepper hash, A. Friend. Four cakes and cut flowers, Solkanishade Club. Magazines, Mrs. Thomas. Cut flowers, Samuel Gray. Child's coat and pop corn, A. Friend.

Express services for Thanksgiving, Scott Hornbeck. Keg of cider, magazines and gauze, Mrs. S. R. Deyo. Canned fruit, jellies, oranges, apples, nuts, raisins, Port Ewen W. C. T. U.

Old linen, Mrs. Julia Niece. Magazines and jellies, Mrs. Brodhead. Papers and canned fruit, Industrial Home Children.

Magazines, Charles Tryce. There are, at present, among the patients at the Tuberculosis Hospital, two children, a little eight-year-old Dorothy Coddington, whose mother died of tuberculosis, and sixteen-year-old Mary Descher, who is confined to a wheel-chair for locomotion, having had both legs amputated. Is it worth while doing our utmost in the city and county to prevent any other children, perhaps our children, from such an awful fate?

For all the above-mentioned gifts and the continued interest and good will of the community, the Tuberculosis Hospital staff, including nurses and patients are very grateful.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Erhler-Burnett.
Howard Erhler and Miss Agnes Burnett, both of Saugerties, were united in marriage in Ravena, Saturday evening, November 29.

Tice-Couchman.
Loys F. Tice and Miss Emma M. Couchman of Catskill were united in marriage Sunday noon in Rhinebeck by the Rev. Smith. Both are popular members of the younger set of Catskill. They will make their home in Catskill.

Annual D. A. R. Meeting.
The annual meeting of Willwyck Chapter, D. A. R., will be held at the Chapter House on Thursday of this week, December 4, at 3 o'clock. Annual reports of officers will be given. The hostesses for the afternoon will be Miss Marjorie Case and Miss Alice Van Gaasbeck. The local board meeting will be at 2 o'clock.

Solkaniashade Club.
The Solkanishade Club met on Monday at the home of Mrs. Lasher on Lucas Avenue. A paper full of interest, entertainingly presented, and entitled "Rio de Janeiro, the City Beautiful," was given by Mrs. W. H. Niles. The matter of assisting in the house to house canvass for the Christmas Seal Sale in the interest of the big Tuberculosis Drive now in progress throughout the county, was taken up, and the club members agreed to canvass the First Ward. The club adjourned to meet next week with Mrs. Niles at her home, No. 262 Smith Avenue.

Wedding Anniversary Reunion.
A delightful family gathering was that held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac T. Mesereau, 113 Spring Street, on Sunday, the event being the 36th wedding anniversary of that couple. Those who participated in the gladsome celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Mesereau's daughters, Mrs. Chester A. Phelps of Cold Spring-on-the-Hudson, and Mrs. Andrew B. Keating of New York City, and son, Arthur T. Keating, representative of the J. L. Mott Iron Works. Mrs. Phelps and Mrs. Keating were accompanied by their husbands and the former's two sons, Chester A. and Arthur T. As can be inferred on an occasion of this kind, the reunion was of a most happy and joyous nature.

Monday Club.
The Monday Club met this week at The Huntington, with Mrs. Charles Preston. Mrs. Richard Tappen had a most excellent paper on "The Cathedral at Rheims." By special request, Mrs. Hyman Roosa of the Twentieth Century Club was present and gave an especially interesting report of the recent State Federation meeting at Elmira. The matter of the need of increased funds for the work of the local branch of the State Charities Aid Association, which is carrying on in the interest of dependent children in our country was brought to the notice of our club members, and they were urged to interview their superiors, making a request for an increased appropriation for this work. Next week the club will meet with Mrs. DeWitt Roosa.

The home was tastefully decorated for the occasion the color scheme being yellow and white. Miss Elghmeyer was presented with many useful and appropriate gifts the presentation speech being made by Miss Eva Coddington, who certainly covered herself with glory and made the hit of the evening. Among those present were Mrs. Carrie Brodhead, Mrs. Jane Mould, Janette Elghmeyer, Edith Moran, Loretta Moran, Mae Moran, Sonja Gronemeyer, Catherine Salzmann, Mrs. Mamie Johnston, Mrs. Lillian Vredenburg, Mildred Lasher, Margaret Lasher, Eva Coddington, Cora Rightmyer, Catherine Freitag, Mae Lyons and Elizabeth Meyer.

Junker-Kleeber.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Evangelical Lutheran Church, Saugerties, when Miss Carrie Kleeber became the bride of Edward J. Junker of Hoboken, N. J., a large number of relatives and friends witnessing the ceremony. The pastor of the church, Rev. Henry C. Egner, performed the ceremony. The bride was attractively gowned in a henna colored traveling suit with hat to match. The groom wore the accustomed black. The attendants were Miss Florence Gippert and Louis H. Kleeber, Jr., a brother of the bride. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Junker departed amid showers of confetti and well wishes, via automobile for Kingston, and from here they went south by train for a wedding trip. The bride is the eldest daughter of Louis H. Kleeber and one of Saugerties' highly regarded and estimable young women. She has been prominent in the work of the Evangelical Lutheran Church and also served as the church organist for a number of years. The groom, also well and favorably known, is a barber and for several months was employed in Kleeber's tonsorial emporium. He and his bride will reside in Hoboken, N. J., and will have the hearty congratulations of numerous friends.

LEXINGTON BRIDGE OPEN.

New Eye Beam Put in to Strengthen It—Built in 1870.

The big bridge which spans the creek at Lexington village which had been closed for several days previous to Saturday last, was reopened for traffic on that day. The bridge had been pronounced unsafe, and a new eye beam was put in to strengthen it. It is the opinion of those who know its condition that a new bridge will soon be required. The Lexington bridge was built in 1870, at a time when auto trucks were unknown, and naturally without any thought that it would be required to support the frequent passage of the big auto trucks carrying material and supplies in connection with the construction of the Gilboa dam and reservoir. The passage of these heavy vehicles is largely responsible for the weakening of the bridge.

While the bridge was closed, vehicles of all kinds were compelled to make a detour by way of Hunter or Grand Gorge, in going to Shandaken, an added distance of about twenty miles.

A Reminder

This is the Christmas Store
for Men

The importance of shopping early can not be emphasized too strongly. Christmas will roll around before you realize it. Remember, gift-buying is no easy task; begin now, it isn't too early. The sooner you get through with it the better.

We have provided the things for a man's Christmas. Things that fit into the fold of a man's desires; things practical and useful; things to wear.

Our name on an article of men's apparel will win favor with men who like quality and goodness, and our label on a gift bespeaks the good judgment of the giver.

We are ready now. Choose early, shop in comfort, avoid the worry, distractions and the rush which attends "eleventh hour" shopping.

HURLEY.

Hurley, Dec. 1.—Thanksgiving Day was one of the quietest days of the year in this village. One dares hardly to call it "nothing," but in fact the situation was almost that. The weather of the day was about as about as miserable as could be handled out by the weather clerk. It had been arranged to have the Thanksgiving Day services held on Wednesday evening but the inclement weather prevented it. The dull, leaden sky languid over us on "The Day" was not conducive for any pleasant out of doors, so that but little movement was seen about the village street. Indoors most of us enjoyed the warmth and good cheer of the season either very quietly or with guests, or being "entertained." The Thanksgiving service was held in the village church in the evening and was largely attended.

The DeWitt family across the creek had over twenty at their table on Thanksgiving Day.

Miss Newkirk came home after an extended vacation in New Jersey. Miss Van Schilder came up with her.

Miss Cornelia DeWitt came home for the week end.

Miss Mabel Taggart from Boston and Ralph Miller from Rutgers spent their vacation days at the Miller home.

Miss Julia Lockwood came home for the season.

On account of death in the family of Mrs. Pearson, the teacher in the upper room at the village school, and also because of Thanksgiving Day.

FAST FIGHTERS HERE TONIGHT

Some of Fighters Who Appear Tonight Made Hit in Beacon Last Week—Bouts Start at 8:20 O'Clock.

One of the best boxing cards of the season along the Hudson river will be pulled off this evening at the fourth snoker of the Kingston Athletic Club in Griffiths Hall on lower Hasbrouck avenue. Johnny Reiser clashes with Young Jim Jeffries; Al Cook meets Willie Rose and Young Mickey steps six rounds with Ray Lucas. There will also be some local talent. The first bout starts at 8:20 o'clock. Edward Cashion will be the third man in the ring.

Last week Willie Rose clashed with Joe Rider of Newark at the Beacon show, and the bout resulted in a fast draw. Ray Lucas met Al Cook, "Lucas" who fights Young Mickey here, showed up well. He was so good that he will box the main event with Smiling Ritchie of Newark on December 12 at Beacon. Rose, according to the newspaper account, put up a fine bout with Rider, whom he knocked down in the eighth round. Willie meets Al Cook here, and it should prove one of the best bouts of the evening. The Kingston Athletic Club looks for a record-breaking attendance this evening.

DEBATE FRIDAY

At St. John's Men's Club on League of Nations.

Rector Leighton Williams announced at the Sunday services at St. John's Church that the subject for discussion at the next bi-monthly meeting of the Men's Club in the parish house in rear of the church on Wall street will be "The League of Nations," Friday at 8 o'clock. Two speakers of repute have been chosen to give their views on this great topic in which so many are interested. Diverse views are held by members of the club and their friends, and a large attendance is looked for. The public is also invited.

WEST HURLEY.

West Hurley, Dec. 1.—Plans are being made for rehearsals to begin for the choir and Sunday school of the M. E. church, as their annual Christmas concert and entertainment is set for Christmas Eve. GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR

Let "Danderine" save your hair and double its beauty

Oh, girls, such an abundance of thick, heavy, invigorated hair; a perfect mass of wavy, silky hair, gloriously fluffy, bright and so easy to manage.

Just moisten a cloth with a little "Danderine" and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this magically removes all dirt, excess oil and grease, but your hair is not left brittle, dry, stringy or faded, but charmingly soft, with glossy, golden gleams and tender lights. The youthful gleams, tints and color are again in your hair.

"Danderine" is a tonic-beautifier. Besides doubling the beauty of the hair at once, it checks dandruff and stops falling hair. Get delightful Danderine for a few cents at any drug or toilet counter and use it as a dressing and invigorator as told on bottle.

MORE RED CROSS GARMENTS NEEDED

While the Ulster County Chapter of the Red Cross has given up its headquarters on Broadway, beginning the first of December, this does not mean that there is no more Red Cross work to be done. Not at all. The chapter has just been notified that it will immediately receive for making 725 girls' chemises, and asks that these garments be finished by the first of January. Now this is a very small number of children's garments to be made by the women of Kingston and Ulster county between this and January 1st, and to have the consignment ready and at headquarters in New York within that time, will be a pretty nice sort of Christmas present from the women of Ulster county to the Red Cross.

Miss Katherine Millard has kindly consented to take charge of the work, continuing at her post as the efficient chairman of the garment work. These garments, which are very simple, can be taken home by the women who are willing to do this work. We read in Monday's Freeman that there were at least 5,042 families in Kingston alone, so it will be little enough to expect that these garments be taken in enough homes to have them finished in time.

All who are willing to do the work are asked to communicate at once with Miss Millard at her home, 30 Henry street, or to call her on the telephone, 1462-R. It will be a great convenience if those who cannot call for the garments, but if there are others who are willing to do the sewing but cannot call for the garments, they should tell Miss Millard and some arrangement will be made to get the garments to them.

Our Red Cross workers have always seen to it that we completed the garments, etc., required of us within the given time and it is certain that they will not fail in this last request for help for others.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, Dec. 2.—A business meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Leonard Appeldoorn at the Reformed parsonage.

Mrs. J. F. Dorr, who has been the guest of relatives in Albany and Rensselaer, has returned to her home on Stout avenue.

Sunday evening Evangelist T. LeRoy Muir gave a thrilling address in the Methodist Church and was listened to by a large audience. Mr. Muir is a thorough Bible student and is a forceful speaker. He is ably assisted by song leader, R. E. Kaufman. Mr. Kaufman sings a solo at each meeting, which is much appreciated. These gentlemen are here for the purpose of doing good through Gospel messages.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sharts of Lyville called on Miss Leona DuBois on Stout avenue, Sunday.

Mr. Pickett and Miss Buchanan of Kingston called on Mrs. J. F. Dorr on Stout avenue on Monday.

The Rev. T. LeRoy Muir, R. E. Kaufman and the Rev. Harry Rundell are boarding at the home of Merritt Every on Broadway.

This evening service will be held in the Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock. The subject of the service is "Mobilization." Evangelist T. LeRoy Muir will have charge of the service and preach. Everyone is invited to these services. All sinners are requested to sing in the chorus choir led by song leader, R. E. Kaufman.

The Rev. Harry Rundell of Saugerties, N. Y., will have charge of the Bible study in the Evangelistic campaign now under way at the Methodist church. Mr. Rundell knows the Bible by heart and will be a great help to a great many along Biblical lines. Bring your Bibles at the meetings.

Mrs. George W. Shults and daughter, Ruth, of Broadway, and Harold Carle attended the wedding of Mrs. Shults's niece, Miss Marguerite Snyder, to Clifford S. Carnright, on Sunday, November 30, at the home of the bride. Both are prosperous young people of Saugerties and have the best wishes of a host of friends.

The members of the choir of the Port Ewen Reformed Church will hold a rehearsal Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The social and smoker of the Brotherhood of the Reformed church which was to be held at Sproun's Hall this evening has been postponed until Tuesday evening, December 9th, on account of Lieut. Rudolph C. Dittus being unable to attend. Lieut. Dittus will give a talk on his experiences with the 27th Division in France.

Phone Company Answers.

The New York Telephone Company has filed an answer to the objections of William D. Brincker, counsel for the village of Saugerties, to the increase of telephone rates in Saugerties and vicinity, denying the complaint and setting forth that the proposed increases in rates are just and fair.

CO. POOR HOUSE TO HAVE HOSPITAL

Supervisors Order Plans Drawn For Detached Building To Cost Around $9,000—Usher Charities Aid Report and Request For Increased Appropriation—County Sealer Reports.

The committee on county superintendent of the poor accounts in its report to the board of supervisors Monday evening favored the erection of a detached hospital at the county poor house property, and it was voted that the committee with the superintendent of the poor have plans and specifications drawn for such building to be submitted to the board at some meeting to be held in the near future. There is an unexpended balance of $9,000 to the credit of the superintendent of poor's account which amount it is thought will be nearly sufficient to pay cost of construction of the necessary detached hospital.

The committee reported it will be necessary to raise on county outside city of Kingston for ensuing year $4,730 for support of county paupers, keeper, matron, etc. It further reported that claims and accounts of various asylums, hospitals and institutions against county, the several towns and city of Kingston for 1919 are $4,563.48, and that such claims are a legal charge against same as follows and should be apportioned and levied as follows:

County of Ulster	$471.67
Esopus	215.40
Kingston City	390.89
Lloyd	434.58
Marbletown	433.28
Marlborough	387.76
New Paltz	316.75
Pittsford	5.00
Rochester	20.00
Rosendale	455.59
Saugerties	612.11
Shandaken	36.57
Shawangunk	229.00
Ulster	395.23
Wawarsing	159.60

The committee also recommends that $1,800 be levied on county outside city for Industrial Home pursuant to contract; on county, city and various towns, $7,370.77 for payment of bills set forth. Over under the rule.

The report was received, read and ordered filed and later on motion of Supervisor Dayton, Sagendorf and Upright, the committee, the report with recommendations was adopted and a resolution that the amounts necessary to be raised for the maintenance of the county house and care for inmates be levied on county and towns as recommended was laid over under the rule.

The annual report of the Ulster county branch State Charities Aid Association was submitted by Martha
H. Davis, county agent, with a letter from Admiral Francis J. Higginson, president, who requested an increase in the appropriation from $1,500 to $1,800 to meet expenses of traveling and of office. The report which was filed was as follows:

In submitting this seventh annual report of the Ulster County
Branch of the State Charities Aid Association, I beg leave to renew my previous expression of the importance of this work to the county.
The care of dependent children,
the feeble-minded and the unfortunate is one which, it seems to me,
the county cannot afford to forget.

Owing to assistance received from the Ulster County War Chest Budget, the financial conditions of the Agency have been in a favorable condition during the year, but as there is no prospect of the continuance of such assistance which amounted up to the 30th of September, to the sum of $137.44, this society is constrained to ask from the supervisors the sum of $300 as an additional appropriation to that already allowed. The $300 is for expenses of the Agency in addition to the present appropriation of $1,200, making $1,500. This additional appropriation is needed for travel, and office expenses and a favorable consideration is asked for this request.

January 1st, 1919, F. E. W. Darrow was appointed treasurer in place of Miss Ellen Hasbrouck, who resigned.

Miss Kesson handed in her registration to take place October 1st, 1919, which was accepted by the board with regret.

November 1st, 1919, Miss Davis reported to take charge of the agency.

The society has to mourn the loss of one of its original members in the death of Mrs. Dillon, whose heart sympathy and warm interest in the work of the society was of great value and much appreciated.

The county institutions, the county almshouse and county jail, together with the Kingston City Alms House and Industrial Home, have been visited during the year
and found in good condition.

Respectfully,
F. J. HIGGINSON,
President.

Report of County Agent Ulster County's Children.

Children supported by public funds Sept. 30, 1918.....45 Committed as public charges

lic funds.....68
Discharged from care Sept. 30,

The agent investigated the circumstances of the families of the 39 children who have been in homes for children at the expense of the taxpayers of Ulster county during the past year. 282 were discharged from care were provided for as follows:
Placed in free homes under supervision.....14 Placed in state institutions for care.....14
Became self-supporting.....2

Total.....30
Prevention.
The agent also investigated the circumstances of 21 children for whom public support was sought.

She reported:
Not in need.....13
Need met without commitment of children.....47
Sent to state institutions for defectives directly from homes.....44
Family advised or directed.....27

Total.....91
The needs of 51 children (47 and
4) thus were met by the agent without the children becoming charges upon Ulster county or town towns thereof.

The agent has had under her care
130 children (39 and 91).
Of these 34 were supported by public funds of Ulster county.

Only 55 children are now public charges.
Collected mostly from fathers $412.56.

Fourteen children with no responsible relatives, are leading normal lives in carefully selected and supervised foster homes.

Seven defectives most of whom were feeble-minded have been sent to suitable state institutions for custodial care so that they will no longer be a menace to the community.

To obtain these results 1218 interviews and visits have been made.
The purpose of the Ulster county agency is to care for its children in such a way that they may grow to be good and useful American citizens.
The children coming under its care
may be classified under four general heads:

Improper guardianship.
Defectives, mental and physical.
Destitution.
Desertion and illegitimacy.

We now have 61 children who are under our charge.
Two in special schools for mental
defectives.
Three in special schools for those with physical defects.
Eleven in the Industrial Home in this city.

Two in correctional institutions.
Twenty-five in other institutions and schools.
Eight in private homes.

The children in the schools for defectives, both mental and physical,
are receiving the best training possible to make them useful citizens as is possible in spite of their defects.

A few instances will give a clear idea of what the agency stands for than any number of figures could give.

Destitution.
Last year the agent rescued six children from a filthy home, where at the very time the children were taken, both parents lay dead in the house from influenza. They had been feeble-minded and had never kept a fit home.

The baby died, the most attractive of the children was placed out for adoption in a good home, another child will be taken on trial for adoption in a few days. One is in a school for the feeble-minded. We are now planning to send two of them, who are both feeble-minded, to such schools where they may learn to use to the fullest extent possible, their small amount of brains.

As soon as this plan is carried out,
the children will no longer be an expense to the county, as the schools are supported by the state.

Thus the care that the agent takes of the county children is by no means ended when they are rescued from bad homes, quite to the contrary, she keeps her mind on them wherever they may be, makes occasional visits and if a change seems wise, sees that the change is made.

Defectives.
While the first instance is one of mental defect as well as destitution,
the next is simply a defective, both physical and mental.

The public schools could not teach
the child, nor could they handle him, and refused to keep him. The parents could do nothing for him at home, so he was sent to a school for crippled children. This school sent him home saying that his defects were more mental than physical. The parents, unable to handle the situation, came to the agent for help, and the child will soon be in the school for mental defectives.

Improper Guardianship.
Both father and mother were an-noyous in the neighborhood for stealing, and the children were fast learning to do likewise. In fact the man was in prison when the case came up.

The father who comes of a good family, and had rather better standards than his wife, realized the danger the children were in, and honestly wished to have them brought up decently. He therefore signed a release and the court took charge of the five children.

At the father's request the four youngest were placed in Catholic institutions, where they are now doing very well.

The oldest boy was sent to a working home near Kingston. Here he is living a normal life, his life regularly attending school and doing his family who have taken him.

Illegitimacy.
In this case the mother was feeble-minded, and the mother of three ill-legitimate children.

For several years the case had been known to the town authorities especially because of the oldest child, and because they had been obliged to give the family help.

The mother was quite unable to manage this lad, who had gone so far in trouble making, as to set fire to a barn.

The county agent was asked to look into the family situation. Finding that the mother was decidedly feeble-minded and unfit to care for her children under the best conditions possible, and that her father who was her home, was dying, the agent was in the course of several months, able to take the children, and send her to an institution for the feeble-minded.

The oldest boy who, under proper guidance, proved to be a good boy, was placed in a private home. The baby is now in a private home, and will be cared for by the county until some one is found who will adopt him.

The third child died before the case was broken up.
By the breaking up of this home,
will be done by the Canfield Store Company.

More Fact Savers.
Horace Simmons of Towns street is installing a fuel saving Kingston gas hot water system and the work will be done by the Canfield Store
Company.

Union where she will be well cared for;
the county has stopped her from bringing into the world any more children who would probably be county charges.

These are the cases which a new worker is easily able to describe from a short acquaintance with the office records.

But beyond what is shown here,
there is a far reaching opportunity for help and prevention, an opportunity which can only be realized through the co-operation of the many leading people throughout the county, who believe in the work and are ready to support it.

Nearly every day some new family is reported to the agent. Usually it is a case of ignorance and dirt, and poverty caused by ignorance. In such cases the agent can alone give very little help. However a great deal could be done by individuals in different localities taking a friendly interest in such people, regularly visiting them and advising them and occasionally meeting the agent to report.

The need and the opportunity for help is very great, and it is a case of "Charity begins at home."
Respectfully submitted,
MARTHA H. DAVIS,
Ulster County Agent.

S. Frank TenEyck, county sealer, since August, submitted his report showing work done, such as examining scales of various kinds, weights and measures, oil tanks, containers, etc., many of which he had condemned. The report was filed.

Supervisor Wiedeman gave notice that at some future date he would move that Section 7, Rule 6, be suspended so that resolution for the levying or appropriation of moneys be acted on the same day as offered.

Supervisor Frasier offered a transcript of which has been received from the State Comptroller be added to the town assessment rolls

same be levied on said towns in same manner as of current year. Over

On motion of Supervisor Saxe the board of supervisors adjourned until

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It must be constructive. It must apprehend the general interest,
the real remedy for the unrest which manifests itself in the unrest, but a deep consideration of the wrongs that beset our national life and the application of a remedy.

Congress Must Help.
Congress has already shown its willingness to deal with these industrial wrongs by establishing the eight hour day as the standard in every field of labor. It has sought to find a way to prevent child labor. It has served the whole country by leading the way in developing the means of preserving and safe-guarding lives and health in dangerous industries.
It must now help in the difficult task of finding a method that will bring about a genuine democratization of industry, based upon the full recognition of the right of those who work in whatever rank, to participate in some organic way in every decision which directly affects their welfare.

It is with this purpose in mind that I called a conference to meet in Washington on December 1st, to consider these problems in all their broad aspects, with the idea of bringing about a better understanding between these two interests.

Labor's Rights Fundamental.
The great unrest throughout the world, out of which has emerged a demand for the immediate consensusation of difficulties between capital and labor, bids us put our own house in order. Frankly, there can be no permanent and lasting settlements between capital and labor which do not recognize the fundamental concepts for which labor has been struggling throughout the years. The whole world gave its recognition and endorsement to these fundamental purposes in the league of nations. The statesmen, gathered at Versailles, recognizing the fact that world stabllity could not be had by reverting to industrial standards and conditions against which the average workman of the world had revolted. It is, therefore, the task of statesmen of this new day of changes and readjustments, to recognize world conditions and to seek to bring about through legislation, conditions that will mean the ending of the age-long antagonisms between capital and labor, and that hopefully lead to the building up of a comradeship which will result not only in greater continent among the mass of workmen but also bring about a greater production and a greater prosperity to business itself.

What Workers Demand.
To analyze the particulars in the demands of labor is to admit the justice of their complaint in many matters that lie at their basis. The workman demands an adequate wage, sufficient to permit him to live in comfort, untampered by the fear of poverty and want in his old age.
He demands the right to live and the right to work amidst sanitary surroundings, both in home and in the workshop, surroundings that develop and do not retard his own health and well being; and the right to provide for his children's wants in the matter of health and education. In other words, it is his desire to make the conditions of his life and the lives of those dear to him, tolerable and easy to bear.

The establishment of the principles regarding labor laid down in the covenant of the league of nations offers us the way to industrial peace and conciliation. No other road lies open to us. Not to pursue this one is longer to invite enmities, bitterness and antagonism which in the end only lead to industrial and social disaster. The unwilling workman is not a profitable servant. An employee whose industrial life is hedged about by hard and unjust conditions, which he does not create and over which he has no control, lacks that fine spirit of enthusiasm and volunteer effort for which are the necessary ingredients of a great producing concern. Let us be frank about this solemn matter. The evidences of world-wide unrest which manifest themselves in evidence throughout the world, let us pause and consider the means to be followed to stop the spread of this contagious thing before it saps the very vitality of the nation itself. Do we gain strength by withholding the remedy? Or is it not the business of the statesmen to treat these manifestations of unrest which meet us on every hand as evidences of an economic disorder and to apply constructive remedies wherever necessary, being sure that in the application of the remedy we touch not the vital tissues of our industrial and economic life? There can be no cessation of the tide of unrest until constructive instrumentalities are set up to stem that tide.

Labor Not a Commodity.
Labor must not be longer treated as a commodity. It must be recognized as the activity of human beings, possessed of deep yearnings and desires. The business man gives his best thought to the repair and replacement of his machinery, so that its usefulness will not be paid for ways be as its height and kept in full repair and motion. No less regard ought to be paid to the human machine which after all propels the machine of the world and is the great dynamic force that lies back of all industry and progress. Return to the old standards of waste and employment in industry are unthinkable. The terrible tragedy of war which has just ended and which has brought the world to the verge of chaos and disaster would be in vain
if there should ensue a return to the conditions of the past. Europe itself, whence has come the unrest which now holds the world as it were in a grip of stagnation in which America might well accept any example, not to be copied but to be avoided. Europe made labor the differential and the grip of it all is enmity and antagonism and prostrated industry. The right of labor to live in peace and comfort must be recognized by governments and America should be the first to lay the foundation stones upon which industrial peace shall be built.

Capital Equal to Gov't's Eyes.
Labor not only is entitled to an adequate wage, but capital should receive a reasonable return upon its investment and is entitled to protection at the hands of the government in every emergency. No government worthy of the name can "play"
these elements against each other,
for there is a mutuality of interest between them which the government must seek to express and to safeguard at all cost.

The right of individuals to strike is inviolate and ought not to be interfered with by any process of government, but there is a predominant right and that is the right of the government to protect all of its people and to assert its power and majesty against the challenge of any class. The government, when it asserts that right seeks not to antagonize a class, but simply to defend the right of the whole people, as against the irreparable harm and injury that might be done by the attempt of any class to usurp a power that only government itself has a right to exercise as a protection to all.

Some Arbitrary Body Needed.
In the matter of international disputes which have led to war, statesmen have sought to set up as a remedy arbitration for war. Does this not point the way for the settlement of industrial disputes, by the establishment of a tribunal, fair and just alike to all, which will settle industrial disputes which in the past have led to war and disaster?

America, witnessing the evil consequences which have followed out of such disputes between these contending forces, must not admit itself impotent to deal with these matters by means of peaceful processes. Surely, there might be some method of bringing together in a council of peace and amity these two great interests, out of which will come a happier day of peace and co-operation, a day that will make men more hopeful and enthusiastic in their various tasks, that will make for more comfort and happiness in living and a more idyllic condition among all classes of men. Certainly human intelligence can devise some acceptable tribunal for adjusting the differences between capital and labor.

"This is the hour of test and trial for America. By her prowess and strength and indomitable courage of her soldiers, she demonstrated her power to vindicate on foreign battlefields her conceptions of liberty and justice. Let not her influence as a mediator between capital and labor be wrecked and her own failure to settle matters of purely domestic concern be proclaimed to the world.
There are those in this country who threaten direct action to secure their will upon a majority Russia today, with its blood and terror, is a painful object lesson of the power of minorities. It makes little difference what minority it is; whether capital or labor, or any other class; no sort of privilege will ever be permitted to dominate this country. We are a democracy, where the majority are the masters, and all the hopes and purposes of the people who founded this government have been defeated and forgotten. In America there is but one way by which great reforms can be accomplished and the relief sought by classes obtained, and that is through the orderly processes of representative government. Those who would propose any other method of reform are enemies of this country. America will not be daunted by threats nor lose her composure or calmness in these distressing times.
We can afford, in the midst of this day of passion and unrest, to be self-contained and sure. The instrument of all reform in America is the ballot.
To the road to economic and social reform in America is the straight road of justice to all classes and conditions of men. Men have but to follow this road to realize the full fruition of their objects and their purposes. Let those beware who would take the shorter road of disorder and revolution. The right road is the road of justice and orderly process."

Deserters Taken to Camp.
The two soldiers that deserted and

R. R'S. IN SENATE UNTIL JAN. 1

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Railroad legislation will occupy the time of the senate until the first of the year.

Senator Cummins, of Iowa, chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee and father of the Cummins railroad bill, said today that that measure will be passed by the upper chamber by January 1, according to his belief.

"If it is passed and goes to conference before the Christmas recess I cannot conceive of the administration turning the railroad back to private ownership," Cummins said.

"If the bill is before the conference committee it is a practical certainty that it will be passed finally in a few weeks. In that event I believe the president will defer the return of the railroad until February 1."

Amendments to the railroad bill will come in a flood. The Cummins bill is radically different from the Esch bill passed by the house. Several members have planned to introduce amendments to restore the provisions of the Esch bill.

The first will be introduced by Senator King, Democrat, Utah, giving the interstate commerce commission full jurisdiction over rates.

ODDS AND ENDS.

A turkey dinner will be served by the ladies of the First Reformed Church in the chapel on Wednesday evening from 5 to 7 o'clock.

There will be a regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Benedictine Sanitarium at the sanitarium Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. James' M. E. Church will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the church parlor.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Fair Street Reformed Church will be held in the lecture room of the church tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Church of the Comforter will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the church. The election of officers for the ensuing year will take place. All members are urged to attend.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Trinity M. E. Church will hold a regular monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. W. Important matters taken up for consideration. Every member is urged to attend.

Trying Aviators' Slayers.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Dec. 2.—The American embassy at Mexico City has been advised by the Mexican foreign office that the district court in Ensenada, Lower California, has begun prosecution of Calixto Ruz and Stancio Funa, the supposed murderers of the American army aviators, Connolly and Waterhouse, whose bodies were recovered from Lower California some weeks ago.

Propose Senate Closure.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Dec. 2.—Two proposals to enforce permanent closure upon the senate were proposed today in the senate by Senators Curtis, Republican, Kansas, and Kellogg, Republican, of Minnesota. The closure is aimed primarily for the early passage of the railroad bill.

FALL CHARGES I. W. W. COLLUSION

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Collusion between American and Mexican members of the I. W. W. to foment trouble between the United States and Mexico is strongly indicated by evidence gathered by Senator Fall of New Mexico, with co-operation of the state department along the Mexican border, he said here today.

Senator Fall, chairman of the senate foreign relations sub-committee, appointed to investigate the Mexican situation, said he expected to present a report soon on I. W. W. activities in this country and Mexico which promised to be "most sensational."

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

DOMESTIC TROUBLES

Of Frank Goulds Again in French Court

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Paris, Dec. 2.—Litigation over the domestic troubles of Frank Gould, American millionaire, were reopened in Versailles today when his former wife, Edith Kelly Gould, sought to have the divorce decree secured by her ex-husband set aside on the ground she is a resident of America and beyond the jurisdiction of the French courts.

Mr. Gould was not in court and his lawyer explained that he was confined to his home by an abscess of a tooth.

Mrs. Gould was granted alimony of 3,000 francs a month when her husband secured his divorce in the French courts, but she contends that this is insufficient. When the amount was first announced she declared it "would not keep her in silk stockings."

NEW'S DEFENSE A SENSATION

Attorneys For Los Angeles Slayer of His Sweetheart Gather Depositions Showing Indiana Senator His Father—Will Try To Prove Boy Sub-normal From Birth.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 2.—What undoubtedly will be the bulwark of defense for Harry S. New, confessed slayer of his sweetheart, Freda Lesser, when he faces trial for murder here December 10, was revealed today when testimony contained in thirty depositions taken by the defense "leaked out" with sensational results.

The depositions, taken in Indianapolis, Ind., "illuminate the strange life history of the prisoner," they tell the unbiased story of his relationship with his alleged father, United States Senator Harry Stuart New, of Indianapolis, and disclose startling facts and buried secrets in connection with New's claim that he is the son of the senator.

With the depositions Attorney LeCompte Davis, chief counsel for the defense, is ready to go into trial to prove New congenitally "irrational" and mentally sub-normal from birth.

Thirty witnesses testified. The majority of these based their opinions of his mental peculiarity on his constant depression and brooding over the alleged circumstances of his birth.

Among the prominent witnesses testifying in New's behalf are Colonel Robert H. T. Tyndall, of the famous "Rainbow" division, Major Galvin Payne, an army chaplain; and two army lieutenants.

Evidence that will strike like a thunderbolt in Indiana and Washington, D. C., where Senator New is prominent, is contained in the testimony of Martha Scudder, New's aunt on his mother's side of the family.

Miss Scudder, residing in Indianapolis, New's native home. She testified that Senator New and Miss Lillie Berger, her sister, were the parents of two sons. One of these sons, she testified, is Harry S. New, Jr.

The other was Stuart New, named also for the senator. Stuart died two years after he was born.

Miss Scudder declared that she had acted as an intermediary between Senator New and Harry New, and that the senator has "taken care" of the boy financially.

The depositions throw with human interest, especially in reference to Senator New's connection with young New and the boy's life after his mother ceased her alleged unfortunate relationship with the senator.

James W. Davenport, of Indianapolis, the proprietor of an amusement park in that city, was the first witness examined. The direct examination of all the witnesses was conducted in Indianapolis by an attorney representing the defense and the cross examination was by District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine.

Davenport testified that New worked for him at the park when a young man and lived at the Davenport home. He declared that New is "irrational," that New had "the mind of a ten year old."

He said that New preferred the company of children and had "playthings that did not amount to anything that he treasured very highly." Davenport said that he had frequently seen New on the streets of Indianapolis with his alleged father and that the boy was often morose and dull.

Mrs. Eleanor Jameson Drummond of Indianapolis testified that New was "irrational" and "moody."

New seemed to think, she said, that the circumstances of his birth kept him from associating with respectable persons. He felt that his father was a "fine gentleman," she testified, and often evinced a desire to mingle with people of his father's station in life.

She said her daughter and other girls of the neighborhood sympathized with New and had tried to help him. On one occasion, she testified, she spoke to New, saying, "Harry, for your father's sake try to make a man of yourself." New replied by saying:

"It's not worth while, my birth would keep me from marrying any girl I loved, so what's the use?"

In view of the fact that the defense contends that New was in love with the Lesser girl and that he killed her when she refused to become the mother of their child, this testimony by Mrs. Drummond was considered of much importance.

She said she paid for a private tutor for New when the boy was living in her neighborhood. On one occasion, she testified, the father of one of the girls who had tried to help him, prohibited her from seeing him. This affected New deeply, she said, and he came to her home where he "cried like a child."

"The minute a girl spoke to him in a decent kind of a way, right away he was in love with her," Mrs. Drummond testified.

It was during the testimony of Martha Scudder, New's aunt, that direct reference was made to New's parentage.

Miss Scudder testified that Senator New had always taken care of the boy financially, and that she had acted as intermediary in these transactions.

Then, through a question by District Attorney Woolwine, the startling charge that two children were born to Senator New and Miss Berger was made by the witness.

Miss Scudder testified that two years after Harry New was born a second son was born to Senator New and her sister. This son was named "Stuart," she said, as Senator New's full name was Harry Stuart New.

Stuart died when he was two years old as the result of an injury he received when he fell to the floor of his mother's home. Miss Scudder testified that the witness said New's mother had nursed three times in addition to the "unfortunate affair with Senator New."

Her sister's husband, she said, were John W. Gund, James Clarence and Samuel Barker.

Miss Scudder's testimony contained the first inkling of the allegation that Senator New was the father of two sons.

She testified that New's grandfather, Edward D. Scudder, died in the insane asylum in 1889 and that New was never developed mentally, the subject of his birth preying on his mind, causing him to "mope for over a week" from some fancied slight from his mother.

Some episodes of meetings between Senator New and the boy who claims to be his son, was contained in the testimony given by Charles T. Williams, an Indianapolis attorney. Williams is a partner of John W. Claypool who, he testified, represented Mrs. Berger, then Miss Scudder, in the "paternity proceedings."

Williams testified that New's grandmother had eulogized him. As a result, she said, when he met Senator New on the streets he ducked his head as he thought the senator would "turn him down."

Later, Williams said, young New told him he never had anyone to talk to him nicer than did the senator.

When New wanted to leave Indianapolis for Oklahoma, Williams testified, Senator New furnished the money. Williams said that New has a "low mentality" and carried a chip on his shoulder because of the circumstances of his birth.

Strong testimony that New was "irrational" when he was at the Mexican border in 1916 with Battery A, First Indiana National Guard, was given by Colonel Tyndall and other army officers.

Colonel Tyndall said he had paid particular attention to New at the border, because he was a friend of Senator New. Colonel Tyndall testified that "New shrank from contact" with him and that New was not normal mentally.

Colonel Miller, who was also at the border and later with the Rainbow Division, testified that New was "sub-normal" mentally and subject to moodiness.

Galvin Payne, captain of New's company when New was at the border, said that New had an "unusual mentality" and of "brooding temperament."

He said that the other officers, because they knew of New's alleged parentage, had sympathized with him and were always willing to give him a fair chance for promotion.

On the occasion, Payne testified, a member of the battery called out to New: "New, I see the old man is elected," referring to Senator New's election.

Payne said a peculiar expression crossed New's face. It was a look that none could analyze, he said, and to say that it was a pained expression half told it.

Another witness, who was a captain with New at the border, testified that New was not sane.

Three men who were privates with New, testified how he had earned a reputation of being "irrational" by spending most of his time hunting rattlesnakes, sleeping by his revolver, refusing to associate with other men and telling strange stories of having seen herds of wild horses galloping over the desert.

The depositions will be read by the defense when New is tried for the murder of Freda Lesser.

They will form the foundation for the defense that he is insane.

ABOUT THE FOLKS.

Bernard V. Duffy of New York city spent Thanksgiving and the week end with his parents on Furman street.

Mrs. David Lustig of Walden is spending a few days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kaplan, on West Pierpont street.

Ruth Elizabeth Meyers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Meyers, who has been suffering from a severe attack of the grip, is improving.

Miss Mildred Kaplan of Hartford, Conn., spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kaplan, on West Pierpont street.

William McNally, the young boy who was caught in an elevator shaft at Jacobson's shirt factory, is somewhat improved at the Benedictine Sanitarium.

Miss Claire Short of 113 Pine street has returned to her home after spending some time visiting relatives and friends in North Adams and Pittsfield, Mass.

The regular monthly meeting of the Queen Esther Circle of the St. James M. E. Church will be held in the parlors of the church tomorrow evening at 7:45 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. James McCausland of Mayfield, N. Y., formerly of this city, are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a daughter at their home. Mrs. McCausland was Miss Beatrice Sahloff.

Miss Kathryn Tierney and her friend, Alice McGowan of Kingston, spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of her sister, Mrs. David Fritz, of Poughkeepsie. While there they attended a surprise party at the home of Jack Perkins.

Mrs. J. J. O'Connor of Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. G. W. Grinton, at the district parsonage on Franklin street for the past three weeks, returned to her home last evening.

Mr. O'Connor came on for the week end. They were quite prepossessed of our beautiful city and may return here to stay.

Mrs. J. Duncan Lawrence and Miss Mary Husted of 51 Maiden Lane, left town this morning to spend the winter south, going first to Lakeland, Fla., from there to Fort Lauderdale and Miami. Returning, they will stop at the important places, both inland and coast, between Florida and New York, reaching home about May 1.

Cummins Aids Treaty Data.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Dec. 2.—The department of state is directed to forward to the senate all communications received from the United States to Japan, in connection with the treaty of commerce, in a resolution offered this afternoon by Senator Cummins, Republican, of Iowa.

"Foreign Trade Through Foreign Investments."

Unusual Investments Because of the Foreign Exchange Situation

When, on account of abnormal conditions, the currency of one country depreciates in its relation to the money of another country, a situation arises which reacts as a hardship to the one, while presenting remarkable investment opportunities to the other.

In some of the European countries money has depreciated in its relation to American money to such an extent that American dollars will purchase government bonds in Europe at prices from 18% to 60% lower than their value under normal exchange conditions.

A condition like this must sooner or later readjust itself through a more normal balance of trade than exists today. Already we are receiving news of improvement in conditions in the allied countries.

The following figures will indicate clearly the strong position of the American dollar:

$1,000 WILL BUY ABOUT

9,700 French francs now as against normally 5,185 francs.

12,100 Italian lire now as against normally 5,186 lire

246 British Pounds now as against normally 205.5 Pounds

9,300 Belgian francs now as against normally 5,186 francs.

It is clear that while the government internal loans of the allied nations offer safe investments, with the possibility of profits running as high as 125%, American industry must suffer because of the inability of these nations to purchase our goods in large quantities so long as exchange rates continue as they are at present.

It is recognized that the surest way to bring exchange rates back to normal basis is to purchase foreign government internal loans. Consequently, for selfish as well as altruistic reasons, every American should place part of his funds in these securities.

Europe has survived every crisis heretofore, and those familiar with the European situation are the most emphatic in their statements that the allied nations are surely recovering from the devastation of war.

We are prepared to quote the prices of the internal loans of England, France, Belgium and Italy.

We have prepared literature regarding these securities which we will furnish on request, and we shall be glad to answer any questions by mail or telephone or discuss the exchange situation personally with those who wish to call at any of our offices.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Kilmer-Wolf.

A very pretty wedding took place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock when Miss Justina Frances Wolf was united in marriage to Emerson A. Kilmer by the Rev. John P. Neumann, of St. Peter's Church. The couple were attended by Albert August Wolf and Catherine Wolf. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, No. 197 Abel street, where they received the congratulations of their many friends, and a wedding supper was served.

The gifts were many, useful and costly, consisting of cut glass, silver, etc. Mr. and Mrs. Kilmer left later on a wedding trip to Jersey City and New York. On their return they will reside in this city, where a beautifully furnished home is in readiness. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. John Harder, Jersey City; Mr. and Mrs. William Mullican, Hackensack, N. J.; John Wolf, New York; Mrs. Joseph Schetzel, Connelly, and sons, William, John and Jacob, and daughter, May; Fred Bechtold, U. S. N.; Mr. and Mrs. Wolf, city; Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Kilmer, Mr. and Mrs. William Schwalbach, Mrs. Rose Kellerman and daughters, Frances and Catherine, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Laicher and daughter, Anna, Fred Laicher, Mr. and Mrs. Ford Van Gansbeek and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schell, Mrs. Scheffel and son, Kenneth, Mrs. Emma Van Gansbeek and son, William, Mr. and Mrs. George Rillou, Mrs. Joseph Bechtold and sons, Mark and Fred, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Fredrick and daughter, Miss Mary Quest, Mr. and Mrs. William McRobert and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Tierney and daughters, Miss Margaret Kilmer, Chester Kilmer.

RIOT.

Ruby, Dec. 2.—Miss Helen Titus has returned to her home after spending a few days with friends in Poughkeepsie.

HENRY C. FRICK
DEAD IN N. Y.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, Dec. 2.—Henry Clay Frick, multi-millionaire coal, coke and steel magnate, died at his home here at 5:15 o'clock this morning, aged 70. Mr. Frick suffered an attack of pneumonia poisoning a fortnight ago, but had nearly recovered from this when another and more severe illness developed. This necessitated a consultation of physicians.

Mrs. Frick and her daughter were at the bedside when Mr. Frick died at his city residence, Fifth avenue and Seventieth street.

Mr. Frick was a self-made man, rising from a poor boy to be controller of mines. He and Andrew Carnegie were two of the most outstanding figures in the development of the American steel industry.

MASONS HOLD
WELCOME HOME

For the 24 Members of Roundout Lodge Who Served During World War—Banquet and General Good Time Monday Evening.

Monday evening Roundout Lodge, No. 343, F. & A. M., held a welcome home reception for the thirty-four members of the lodge who saw service during the world war. A banquet was served during the evening and the principal address of the evening was delivered by Right Worshipful Charles H. Johnson of Albany, who is trustee of the Masonic Hall and Asylum fund, and also secretary of the state board of charities.

The lodge rooms were artistically decorated for the occasion with the national colors, and many of the out of town members made it a point to be present that evening. The committee in charge of the banquet deserve great credit for the menu and the faultless manner in which it was served.

Right Worshipful Samuel Stern presided as toastmaster, and introduced Right Worshipful Johnson, who delivered one of the most stirring addresses ever heard in the city. He spoke on Americanism and Masonic principles. Brief addresses were also delivered by the Rev. Dr. Charles G. Ellis of the Roundout Presbyterian Church; Lieutenant Finley Lieutenant Thompson, Sergeant Geschwinder, Private Shultis and Mr. Gregory who was in the navy.

During the evening the Masonic orchestra of eight pieces rendered a fine musical program.

SSH! DID YOU HEAR IT? FIND WHISKEY CACHE

Valued in Yr. Olde Time at $2,000, But of Untold Value Today in Downtown Cellar—A Wet Tale in a Dry Time With Dramatic Ending.

Ssh! and another ssh! Gosh, some guys are born lucky stiffs.

Ain't that so? No comrades of ye olden time gather around at any street corner down town and ye will hear the tale of the unearthing of a cache of whiskey in a downtown cellar. And it is the real stuff, too, to hear the tale.

But to get down to brass tacks and the tale unfold. Here is the version overheard on a street car bound downtown as outlined by the conductor and several of the passengers last night.

"You know that Fitzpatrick & Draper, the cigar manufacturers, they wanted more room to store the tobacco, and for that reason leased a part of the cellar under the store formerly occupied by Isaac Weiner on lower Hasbrouck avenue. So the owner of the building got a couple of fellows to clean up the cellar."

"They got busy yesterday afternoon and started to clean up, and as they were moving some old junk they found a kind of a trap door in the cellar floor."

"A trap door?" interrupted one of the listeners.

"Yep," replied the one relating the tale, "and they kinder wondered what was under the door. So they tugged at it awhile and finally it opened up and they found steps leading down into what was a sub-cellar."

"They got interested right away, and going down they struck a match and, gosh, weren't they glad they had found the trap door."

"This under cellar had a lot of shelves and on it were bottles filled with the good old stuff."

"It was whiskey that must have cost $2,000 in the days when you could get good whiskey reasonable, but oh, boy, no one knows what it is worth these dry times."

"That's just my luck," moaned one of the listeners, "if it was raining whiskey from the sky all I would have would be a bucket with no bottom to it."

"Ain't it so," confided another. He added, "I heard this morning of a farmer who was digging around in his cellar and found three bottles of the real stuff and he took it to town and sold it for $110."

"But what became of this find downtown," asked another anxiously, as he glanced out the window of the car at the building where the gold mine had been discovered as the car shot by.

It was at this interesting juncture that the relator of this chronicle had

EXCESSIVE ACIDITY is at the bottom of most digestive ills. KI-MOIDS for indigestion afford pleasant and prompt relief from the distress of acid-dyspepsia. MADE BY SCOTT & BOWNE MAKERS OF SCOTT'S EMULSION.

This morning hot on the search of information the disheartening discovery was made that the tale, like all twice told tales, was slightly exaggerated.

An interview with one of the discoverers of the find follows:

"What's all this I hear about finding $2,000 worth of whiskey in the cellar you were cleaning up?"

"Who's stuffing you? All we found was a lot of broken bottles. There was no whiskey that I remember, but there may have been some gin and some old soda water that you wouldn't drink on a bet."

"Huh," grunted the questioner with a note of dismay in his otherwise genial voice.

"Straight goods," replied the discoverer, "all we found was what you would find in any cellar of an old saloon where naps moved out and quit business. You got a picture of anyone leaving a lot of good stuff stuck away in a dark corner of a cellar, ain't you?"

"How about this sub-cellar?" asked the questioner, still clinging to the disappearing thread of hope.

"Nothing to it," replied the discoverer in disgusted tones.

But that is just the way all remarkable and startling tales heard on the street turn out. On one lonesome item of fact the tale is built and passed from one to another the tale grows and grows and grows.

From last reports heard on the street the "find" had grown in value to $50,000, and likely is still going skyward by leaps and bounds.

MYSTERIOUS BURGLAR
In New Paltz—Authorities Suspect Girl Seen in Neighborhood.

New Paltz, Dec. 2.—A mysterious girl burglar, the Ulster county sheriff and state police believe, is responsible for two successful and many unsuccessful attempts at robbery here in the last week. The girl has been identified, it is stated, and has been seen on at least two occasions in the vicinity of houses which later were scenes of attempts at burglary.

One of the latest robberies was at the home of Mrs. Howard Shafer, where some jewelry was stolen. The loot included some valuable rings.

At the same time, it is reported, the home of Mrs. Alfred Ley, formerly of Highland, was robbed of three diamond rings. Mrs. Ley is a former employee of the Raymond Art Store in Poughkeepsie.

Both cases were reported to the sheriff and state police. Two officers immediately started an investigation. They found that a girl, who disappeared from here about a week ago, had been seen in the vicinity on the night of the robberies at the Shafer and Ley homes. The same girl was also reported as having been frightened away from the home of Louis D. LeFevre after she had started to enter the place. She made good her escape, but was seen early Friday morning at the local railroad station. She took the train going north and subsequent attempts to locate her have been fruitless.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

2707—A Splendid Day Dress.

This will develop well in serge, with trimming of satin or silk. It is nice also for jersey cloth, velvet, mixtures, and plaid or check suiting. This is a "slip on" style. The sleeves may be finished in wrist or elbow length.

The pattern is cut in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. Size 38 requires 3 1/2 yards of 36 inch material. Width at lower edge is about 2 1/4 yards.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or one cent of two cent stamps by The Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state size wanted.
